Pakistan continues to be relentlessly pursuing its agenda to spread false propaganda against India on Kashmir. It appears from some of the reports included in the current issue that the appointees to the highest offices, especially in the case of the so-called Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK), such as the President and Prime Minister are specifically mandated to speak things against India. Hence, they are extensively engaged in peddling fallacious propaganda regarding developments in Jammu and Kashmir. Instead of raking up issues concerning basic rights and conditions of the people of the so-called AJK, political leaders from the region are found doing what could best be termed as rumour mongering regarding Jammu and Kashmir, its people and falsely portraying what India is doing or not doing there. Such acts are only a part of the concerted strategy pursued by Pakistan over decades in order to justify its unfounded and unwarranted claim on the state of Jammu and Kashmir.

Howsoever, hollow and misleading Pakistan's propaganda on Jammu and Kashmir might be, India needs to think in terms of innovative, effective ways to counter it, especially at the international level. Off course, India cannot employ tactics similar to that of Pakistan. For instance, one way for India could be to remain focussed in trying and bringing to the attention of the world genuine cases of political atrocities committed by Pakistan against the people of Pakistan occupied Kashmir (PoK), especially Gilgit Baltistan. It is disheartening how the focus on the international community has been trained largely on the Jammu and Kashmir state in India while completely overlooking pressing issues inside PoK. Both regions within PoK- the so-called AJK and Gilgit Baltistan have been reeling under political deprivation. Cosmetic measures introduced as stop gap arrangements by the government of Pakistan have expectedly proved futile in politically empowering the people of the region. Weak political structures have been deliberately put in place in PoK to make the region and its people absolutely subservient to the government in Islamabad.

Hanif Samoon, “AJK president impressed by Thar coal project, community welfare model”

Dawn, April 1, 2018

Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK) President Sardar Mohammad Masood Khan along with senior officials of his secretariat and Gwadar Port Authority (GPA) Chairman Dostain Jamaldini on March 31 visited Thar Coal Block-II project and described it as an “unmatched venture” which would soon prove to be the best public-private partnership model in Pakistan. GPA Planning and Development director general Muneer Baloch also accompanied Mr Jamaldini during the visit. Sardar Masood Khan noted that the Thar coal project would give a boost to the local and international investors upon its success. He stated the project had great potential to consolidate the investors’ confidence and bring in massive investments. He further stated that the SECMC development model was unmatched in Pakistan, adding that others should also replicate it as the local community was not only getting jobs but also education and health facilities.

“AJK Inks Integrated Phased Plan for Speedy Progress”

Urdu Point, April 1, 2018

Under the upcoming gigantic 9th Special Economic Zone under CPEC project, the AJK government has reportedly started inking a broad-based phased plan for the speedy socio-economic development and uplift of tourism sector through the promotion of trade and tourism sectors in the state. Sources noted on April 1, that to materialize the idea of making AJK a most attractive hub of prospective tourism activities in South Asia, an international tourism conference is proposed to be organized in Mirpur in the near future. Sources further noted that the government was determined to turn Mirpur into most attractive and model city of international repute. To materialise this dream into reality, the government intended to hold an international investment conference in Mirpur soon which, sources added, would indeed help promote foreign investment in trade and industrial sector in the area. Acceleration of business and economic activities in the area may lead to the overall socio-economic uplift and to raise the living standard of the common man in AJK, sources noted while referring to the priorities of the government.

“Neelum-Jhelum ready for generation”

Pakistan Observer, April 2, 2018

At last, the much delayed but strategically important 969 MW Neelum-Jhelum Hydel power project is ready to provide inexpensive and environment friendly electricity to the national grid. The first unit of the project is reportedly ready to start supplying 470 MW of electricity to the national grid by April 13 while other units of the project will also become operational in the next few months. In fact in recent months, one has seen completion of much long delayed hydel projects including that of Golan Gol Hydel project in Chitral. Credit for this definitely goes to the incumbent Chairman WAPDA, Muzammil Hussain. Indeed the completion of these projects will further reduce dependence on expensive thermal power and help save foreign exchange amounting to millions of dollars. This really is a milestone and we expect that WAPDA will continue its efforts to further exploit the hydel potential in Azad Kashmir for the benefit of entire country. In fact it is time to kick start work on much delayed Diamer Bhasha dam and its completion be made a priority given the water scarcity the country is facing today and sedimentation of Tarbela and Mangla dams. As the government is all set to announce the country’s first ever water policy, specific deadlines should be set in it for construction of Diامر Bhasha and other big dams. We will rather propose that the construction of dams should be put on the top list in terms of allocation of funds in the annual PSDPs till these get ready as after all it is a matter of overall economic well-being of the whole country.

Khalid Hasnain, “Diامر-Basha Dam: Over 14,000 acre land transferred to Wapda”

Dawn, April 2, 2018

Its location is 40 km downstream of Chilas, the district headquarters of Diامر in Gilgit Baltistan. It will displace 30,350 people living in 4,266 households of 32 villages, situated above the dam site on both left and right banks of River Indus. The land acquisition for the two of the total three proposed model villages and the piece of land along the disputed boundary of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and GB is a major bottleneck in the way of execution of the project. Among three proposed villages, land (687 acres) for Harpan Das has already been acquired where Wapda has developed community infrastructure and is ready for allotment of plots to the affected people. Sagachal Das is about 80km away from the Chilas town. The site is communal land of inhabitants of Goharabad. Area of Sagachal Das is 526 acres (4207 Kanls). As the locals of Goharabad have refused to allow those affected downstream of Chilas settle in Sagachal Das model village, thus they (1,068 households) would be resettled at this site under the plan requiring 1,820 kanal for the development of infrastructure.

Mohammad Ali, “Continuity of Political Process Vital For Elimination of Religious Extremism: Chief Minister Gilgit Baltistan, Hafiz Hafeezur Rehman”

Urdu Point, April 6, 2018

Chief Minister Gilgit Baltistan, Hafiz Hafeezur Rehman on April 6 stated that continuity of political process was imperative for complete elimination of religious extremism and sectarianism and called for joint efforts to maintain peace and interfaith harmony in the province. He noted the PPP regime had done nothing for development of Gilgit Baltistan besides neglecting the most important sector of education. Development budget had jumped to record Rs18 billion during PML-N government in GB and the province has achieved powers of approving of projects worth Rs1 billion by its own.

Abdul Sattar, “The reaction in AJK”

The News, April 8, 2018

Anger had been simmering in Pakistan and Azad Jammu & Kashmir (AJK) over the alleged violations of the Line of Control (LoC) by India. Through the past week, thousands of Kashmiri and Pakistani political activists took to the streets of AJK to protest against Indian security forces including lawyers, religious leaders, politicians and even cricketers and celebrities. Pacifists in the two nuclear-armed countries fear that the tension along the LOC and turmoil in Jammu and Kashmir could escalate into an armed conflict. Pakistan's foreign minister and many politicians in India have also warned about this possibility. Such a scenario would be catastrophic for the region because the two arch rivals are believed to have over 200 nuclear warheads, capable of generating over 10 million tonnes of smoke.

“NHA plans to build 216 km Gilgit-Shandur road”

The Nation, April 7, 2018

National Highway Authority plans to build 216-kilometre Gilgit-Shandur road to provide an alternate route to China Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC), reported Radio Pakistan. Official sources of NHA noted that the project would form part of Gilgit-Shandur-Chitral road for which feasibility study had been completed. The estimated cost of the project is 45 billion rupees. The official further noted new road would be an all-weather road and would also provide an alternative route to CPEC during the winter season when the Silk route is closed due to snowfall. After Lowari Tunnel, the new project will be another best possible route for travelling to the region and will save travel time as well.

“Kashmiris all set to mar Modi’s UK visit”

The Nation, April 12, 2018

People of Jammu & Kashmir including those settled in Britain and other European countries will stage mammoth protest demonstrations against India on the arrival of Indian Prime Minister Modi in London on April 18. AJK Prime Minister Raja Farooq Haider Khan stated this on April 11 while addressing a public gathering in Dadayal Town of Mirpur district on April 11. Farooq Haider noted that he himself, flanked by his cabinet and other AJK Parliament members along with the Kashmiri Diaspora, will participate in the protest demonstration. Farooq Haider asserted that the introduction of National Testing Service (NTS), Public Service Commission, emergency service and financial discipline in the government departments were ample proof of the fair and transparent approach of the incumbent regime. He added that nobody could raise finger at his government after landmark achievements. He announced the construction of Dadayal-Sehensa Highway besides the upgradation of various state-run educational institutions in the sub division.

“Neelum-Jhelum inaugurated”

Pakistan Observer, April 15, 2018

Shahid Khaqan Abbasi on April 13 inaugurated the much-awaited Neelum-Jhelum Hydropower Project to inject 969 megawatt of electricity to the national grid as a historic milestone to meet country's growing power requirements. Indeed this project inaugurated way back in 2009 faced long delays mainly due to the negligence of the previous government and credit definitely goes to the incumbent government which took the challenge of completing this strategically important project described as engineering marvel and new wonder of Pakistan with 90 percent of the plant being underground in the high mountainous areas. Given the effort put in by the Chinese consortium including China Gezhouba Group Company and China Machinery Engineering Company in this difficult project, Prime Minister Shahid Khaqan Abbasi very rightly described this project as a symbol of Pak-China friendship.

Khaleeq Kiani, “PM Abbasi inaugurates 969MW project in AJK”

Dawn, April 14, 2018

Terming it a historic moment in the provision of sustainable energy supply, Prime Minister Shahid Khaqan Abbasi on April 13 inaugurated the Neelum-Jhelum hydropower project in Azad Jammu and Kashmir. The run-of-the-river power scheme is designed to divert water from the Neelum River to the power station on the Jhelum River and will produce 969MW of electricity.

The prime minister noted that the construction for the project was started in 2008 but, due to poor planning and a lack of funds, it continued to remain a major challenge. The PM added that in 2013 when the government was formed, the Neelum-Jhelum dam had only seen a progress of 10-12 per cent and several people advised the government to abandon the project altogether.

Masud Ahmed Khan, “The status of Gilgit Baltistan”

Daily Times, April 18, 2018

The US Defence Secretary, James Mattis, while appearing before Senate and House Armed Services Panel informed them that the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) passes through a disputed territory. Here it is important to look into the history of the so-called disputed status of Gilgit Baltistan (GB). The status of Gilgit Baltistan was kept disputed since both India and Pakistan went to the UN to conduct a plebiscite in the disputed Jammu & Kashmir and Gilgit Baltistan was also included in it hoping to get votes of people of Gilgit Baltistan in favour of Pakistan.

The people of GB demand that they should be declared constitutional citizens of Pakistan and GB be made the fifth province of Pakistan adding the term “provisional province” in the constitution of Pakistan where status can be changed on the implementation of UN resolution. The only solution to the issue is that the people of GB should be given representation in the Parliament of Pakistan according to the population. GB must also be brought under the jurisdiction of the Pakistan Supreme Court. It is hoped that the present government will review the situation and ensure the implementation of the recommendation of committees constituted by the governments of GB and Pakistan.

Fakhir Rizvi, “Shortage of Judges in Gilgit Baltistan Courts Adds to Masses’ Woes”

Urdu Point, April 19, 2018

General Secretary Supreme Appellate Court, Gilgit Baltistan Bar Johar Ali Advocate on April 19 underlined the need for expediting recruitment of judges on vacant positions in courts to provide prompt inexpensive justice to masses. He noted that inordinate delay in appointment of judges on vacant posts had put question mark upon the government’s efforts for mitigating masses’ woes. He warned that further delay would not be tolerated and the provincial government should take measures to appointing judges on positions lying vacant in the Supreme Appellate Court and Chief Court on merit basis. He also stated that cases of full bench nature had been piling up due to unavailability of required number of judges, which was against the Constitution and the Law of Land, he maintained.

“PPP plans protest against proposed reforms in GB”

Dawn, April 22, 2018

The Pakistan Peoples Party local leadership on April 21 announced to take to the streets if the recommendations of the federal parliamentary committee for political reforms in Gilgit-Baltistan were implemented in the region. Addressing a press conference on April 21, PPP GB president Amjad Hussain Advocate noted that the parliamentary committee headed by Sartaj Aziz had forwarded recommendations to the federal government for approval for settling constitutional status of the region. PPP secretary information, Sadia Danish, stated that GB people had been struggling for representation in the Parliament of Pakistan and extension of the jurisdiction of Supreme Court to the region. She also asked if PML-N wanted to bring reforms in the region then it should declare GB as a constitutional part of Pakistan.

“Terror groups flourishing in PoK: Activist”

Business Standard, April 22, 2018

Exiled Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) activist Nasir Aziz Khan has claimed that terror groups are flourishing in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK). Khan, a former spokesperson of the United Kashmir People’s National Party (UKPNP) further stated Pakistan is not ready to listen to Kashmiris living in PoK. The residents of PoK have alleged being treated as second-class citizens in territory under Pakistani occupation since 1947. PoK has a Prime Minister and a President, but is ruled by Islamabad. The Prime Minister of Pakistan is the chairman and chief executive of the Azad Jammu and Kashmir Council that manages all affairs related to the PoK.

Farman Ali, "Army's telecom wing allowed 3G, 4G services trial run in GB"

Dawn, April 26, 2018

A court allowed the Special Communications Organisation (SCO) to operate 3G and 4G mobile services on a trial basis in Gilgit-Baltistan (GB) and stayed the telecom regulatory body's decision to allow other private operators to launch the service in the mountainous region. A two-judge bench of the Gilgit-Baltistan Chief Court (GBCC) comprising Justice Haq Nawaz and Justice Muhammad Umar admitted a petition filed by the SCO, the telecommunication wing of the army, for hearing and issued notices to the respondents to submit their comments within a month. The petition was filed on April 18 under Article 71 of the GB Empowerment and Self-Governance Order 2009, challenging the Pakistan Telecommunication Authority's (PTA) decision of issuing licences to cellular networks for launching 3G and 4G spectrum in the mountainous region.

“CPEC and Daimer Bhasha Dam will change Gilgit-Baltistan’s Destiny”

Baad-e-Shimal, April 5, 2018

Chief Secretary Gilgit-Baltistan, Dr. Kazim Niyaz, stated that CPEC and Daimer Bhasha Dam will change the fortunes of the people of Gilgit-Baltistan. He also stated that Daimer region is prone to natural calamities and in summer it gets flooded. That is why there is a need to establish disaster management setup in Daimer. Now with CPEC, the significance of KKH has increased greatly. Many development projects have been initiated in Gilgit-Baltistan- few have already been started and many more will come up. CPEC is game changer for the whole country and for Gilgit-Baltistan as well. It has the potential to end poverty and terrorism in the country. Daimer Bhasha Dam is the other project that has a great significance. Since 30 years, no big dam has been constructed resulting in wastage of water. Huge section of population is facing water crisis. The Daimer Bhasha Dam can lead to much development. Not only would G-B benefit from it, but Sindh also. The Dam would not only produce electricity but also be useful for irrigation purposes. During dry days, the stored water can be used to irrigate agricultural land.

Nambardar Mufti and Sannullah Inqalabi, “Political Parties and Their Future in Gilgit-Baltistan”

Daily Salaam, April 10, 2018

It is unfortunate that the political mind-set and culture of the political parties in Azad Kashmir and Gilgit-Baltistan suffer from lack of credibility. For instance, the fact that the party which rules at the centre comes to power in AJK and Gilgit-Baltistan as well. Politicians in both these regions never bothered to highlight the real issues of people. They are always ready to sacrifice the legitimate grievances of both these regions for their political masters at the centre. But things are changing and changing for the better. With advent of social media, people of these two regions are challenging the political mind-set of the politicians.

The political culture is changing fast. With so much hype around the CPEC and the world now keenly watching it, people in G-B are using social media to put pressure on politicians regarding various decision making. Every small issue is now being highlighted, political leaders can longer deceive the common people. It is unlikely that politicians would win elections relying merely on slogans. They are being closely monitored by the public now. They would be judged from their performance. Time has gone when politicians would win elections by exploiting sectarian differences. With religious harmony restored to the region, the literacy rate picking up, and the internet facility, the politicians are increasingly facing the heat now.

“If Government wants land, provide compensation”

Daily K2, April 18, 2018

The opposition leader in the G-B Assembly, Capt. (Retd) Mohammad Shafi Khan and Pakistan People’s Party leader, Amjad Advocate, noted that even an inch of land cannot be given to government. They noted that the land belongs to the people. If the government is keen to acquire land, it must provide appropriate compensation. Although the Land Reform Commission has been constituted, the government has no authority to forcefully grab land from the people. These comments were made while addressing a public gathering in Chilas.

“Kashmir leadership and few other political players spoiled Gilgit-Baltistan’s chance of having constitutional status and autonomy”

Daily Baad-e-Shimal, April 20, 2018

A renowned analyst and former IG Police, Afzal Ali Shagri, noted that a constitutional committee spearheaded by Sartaj Aziz recommended provincial autonomy to Gilgit-Baltistan, but unfortunately, the political leadership of Azad Kashmir along with other political players opposed the move. While talking to the media, Shagri stated that it is time to get united and raise voice- we cannot afford to remain silent. Gilgit-Baltistan is at a juncture of history where it can prove a watershed moment for the people of the region. We are in a situation where it is now and never, stated Shagri.

“Few paid people are creating conspiracy against Skardu Road”

Daily K2, April 30, 2018

The Public Accounts Committee Chairman, Capt (Retd.) Sikander, noted that few people who are on the payroll of RAW, CIA, and Mossad are trying hatch a conspiracy against the Skardu road. These people are trying to sabotage the construction by spreading propaganda against the project. Such elements are enemies of the people. People of the region should remain vigilant against these anti-state elements. He further noted that the provincial government is going to provide the compensation to the land acquired for the project. Every inch of land that belongs to people would be compensated. Those elements who are saying that the land would not be compensated and the government is out to acquire the land without compensation are in fact spreading lies.
