'Pakistan should hand over Kashmir to the Taliban'

Jasarat, editorial, September, 07 2021

After the death of Syed Ali Shah Geelani, the Taliban sent a strong message to the world, conveying that wherever Muslims are oppressed, the Taliban will help Muslims in every possible way, not just morally. In this regard, former Ambassador of Pakistan Abdul Basit was asked if there has been a change in Pakistan's Kashmir policy which is having a positive impact on the international community. He said that due to Indian lobbying and conspiracy, the Kashmiris independence movement have been thwarted. He further opined that our failure in Kashmir diplomacy has been due to our fear and lack of a strong policy.

It means what Pakistani diplomats are doing, is exaggeration; and exaggerating individual events is failure of diplomacy. Diplomacy is a continuous process, not a recurrence of an event. The whole world is silent on what happened after the death of Syed Ali Geelani. This is a great proof of Pakistan's diplomatic failure. Pakistan had set up some important institutions focused on Kashmir in the Western countries in 1990, which have not only been cut off from financial support but have been completely shut down. Though, over the years, Pakistan has given a new direction to its Kashmir policy at the diplomatic level to convey its position to the international community. This includes presenting evidence of Indian aggression in Kashmir and hiring reputed political experts to support the peaceful struggle of Kashmiris. But what has been achieved so far?

After 9/11, Pakistan stopped supporting the armed movement to avoid allegations of terrorism. But despite all this, India has not yet responded positively to Pakistan's offer. Even, under the Shimla Agreement, India has promised to resolve issues through dialogue. Geelani, the great Hurriyat leader, was the representative of Pakistan in Kashmir. Even when gun was pointed at him he used the slogan 'We are Pakistanis, Pakistan is ours'. Syed Ali Geelani was the voice of Pakistan in Kashmir, who spent the last 12 years of his life in the captivity of a brutal enemy.

He spent the last few months in critical condition, being forcibly detained by the Indian government at a time when he needed intensive care. That is why the death of Mr. Geelani is also being blamed on the Indian government who is accused of murdering him. This is because he was deliberately kept away from medical facilities. Thanks to the late Syed Ali Geelani, today, at a time when Indian- Kashmir has become the largest prison in the world, the spirit of freedom is alive and well. The independence movement in Jammu and Kashmir has been going on for the last 70 years and lately, Pakistan's diplomatic activities are proving somewhat fruitful and many Western countries are beginning to support Pakistan's position. But such initiatives does not mean freedom of Kashmir. More than 100 countries around the world continue to criticize India's decision to confiscate Kashmir's internal sovereignty on August 5, 2019, by removing Articles 370 and 35A. India has stifled its constitution and its democracy. India's action cannot be challenged in any court, because in the era of Modi, the spirit of the Indian judiciary also seems to be wounded. The rise of religious fanaticism and the ongoing human rights violations in Kashmir are alarmingly bad. But Pakistan neither have close ties with India nor is it doing anything substantial for the movement of Kashmir. Therefore, it is now imperative that Pakistan "hands over the task of Kashmir's independence" to the Taliban.

AJK PM Abdul Qayyum Niazi's meet with Governor of Lahore

Jammu and Kashmir Times, September 08 2021

Prime Minister (PM) of Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK), Sardar Abdul Qayyum Niazi meet Governor of Punjab, Chaudhry Muhammad Sarwar at Governor House Lahore. Punjab Governor, Chaudhry Muhammad Sarwar expressed his sadness over the demise of Syed Ali Shah Geelani to the PM of AJK and said that India could not defeat the spirit of the Kashmiris. Governor stressed that Pakistan will continue to provide moral, political, and diplomatic support to the Kashmiris. The Governor of Punjab has assured full cooperation to AJK in fields ranging from health to tourism. During the meeting, the PM of AJK said that under the leadership of PM Imran Khan, we will make AJK strong and prosperous. He noted that PM Imran Khan has truly emerged as the ambassador of Kashmiris on both sides of the divide.

The PM of AJK emphasized that since the convening of the Kashmir Premier League (KPL), AJK has been regarded as a safe and prosperous region of the world. He further said that India's shameful character and role in the death of Syed Geelani has been exposed as the Indian Army insulted Syed Ali Geelani on his death. PM of AJK maintained that India could not silence the voice of Kashmiris with the power of guns and bullets as India's brutality has been exposed to the international diplomatic community. The Governor of Punjab has further said that the Kashmiri people are peacefully engaged in their struggle for independence and until the Kashmir issue is resolved, the dream of peace cannot be fulfilled in the region. Governor of Punjab stressed that we stand with Kashmiris and Modi and Indian forces in Kashmir are committing the biggest terrorism in the world. The Governor of Punjab also reiterated that even the peace process in Afghanistan is not being tolerated by India, however, they have failed in their objectives.
